From the Desk of the Principal

“All of the top achievers are life-long learners; looking for new skills, insights, and ideas. If they’re not learning, they’re not growing and not moving toward excellence.”

I welcome you to Hooghly Mohsin College with pride. It is an honour and a privilege to be the Principal of Hooghly Mohsin College, the college that stands for excellence and continuously sets the standard high. This college is an alma mater to which all alumni look back with fond memories. Over its long journey as an esteemed academic citadel, this college has given the country many distinguished personalities and leaders in diverse fields.

The College always remains committed to its motto of guiding the learners of all sections of society without any bias and leading them to the seats of higher education. In this age of globalization students are required to attach themselves with higher education not only to score high in the examination but also to communicate them properly. This education centre works as an agent of cultural transmission by instilling moral values and beliefs in its students. It works tirelessly to build a future nation.

We feel happy to provide quality education by equipping our students with skills, confidence and a positive approach with an all round development. The college is relentlessly striving to perceive and maintain academic excellence. The college takes continuous steps to promote regular extracurricular activities. Sports events, NCC, NSS activities and cultural fest ensure to highlight and nourish the different types of talent beside the core academic activities. The college has a functional Career counselling and placement Cell, anti-ragging cell and Internal Complaints Committee. It also has an Internal Quality Assurance Cell adhering to the guidelines of UGC to upgrade the regular academic status of the college. The college has adopted a policy of zero tolerance against sexual harassment and is committed to provide an environment free of gender discrimination.

We value collaborative learning and strongly believe in the importance of teachers, parents and administrators collaborating and communicating to improve the quality of education. Our students are encouraged to engage in the world of a progressive tomorrow with expected skills and attributes. My very competent team of teachers and staff strive to focus on each and every child, nurture them and appreciate their achievement in all spheres.

Our vision and mission lies in contributing enlightened individuals from all walks of life. We are very much thankful to students, guardians, alumni, local administration, The University of Burdwan, Purba Bardhaman and Higher Education Department, Government of West Bengal for their all-out co-operation for further betterment of the college.

To conclude, students should believe that their minds are a kingdom. They should not be bowed down by any adversity. The benefit of the students is, and always has been, the sole motive of the college. Empowered with a strong sense of well being, we are confident that our students will emerge as responsible global leaders and citizens with strong moral, ethical and social values.

Finally, I always invite any kind of positive suggestion towards amelioration of this NAAC accredited Grade B++ college.

I wish you the very best.

Dr. Purushottam Pramanik

Hooghly Mohsin College: A Journey Through Time

Glorious Genesis

Situated at the heart of the serene town of Chinsurah, overlooking the picturesque western bank of the River Hooghly, Hooghly Mohsin College—established in 1836—stands as one of the oldest and most prestigious institutions in the district and the State. The college owes its foundation to the remarkable philanthropy of Haji Mohammad Mohsin, a wealthy merchant and humanitarian, who dedicated his vast estate for social welfare and educational development. After his demise, the mismanagement of his endowment by successors prompted administrative intervention. By then, Chinsurah had transitioned from Dutch to British authority (1825), enabling the London Missionary Society to envision major educational reforms across the region. Although such initiatives were aligned with colonial objectives of generating an English-educated administrative workforce, they simultaneously opened new horizons for higher learning among Indians. A committee chaired by T.B. Macaulay, with leading members such as Edward Ryan, Radhakanta Deb, and Rasamay Dutta, was constituted to frame a plan for utilizing Mohsin's fund. Rejecting the idea of a religious minority institution, the committee proposed a secular college. Amid debates and reservations from sections of the Muslim community, "The College of Mohammad Mohsin" was established on 1 August 1836, initially in a rented building owned by Pran Krishna Haldar. Although originally known to the public as "Hooghly College," the institution was formally renamed Hooghly Mohsin College during its Centenary Celebration in 1936. It offered two initial wings—English and Oriental Studies. The college was affiliated to the University of Calcutta on 2 May 1857, began Honours courses in 1864–65, and introduced Law during the same period. After temporary discontinuation in 1907, the Law programme was revived in 1974. Following the establishment of the University of Burdwan in 1960, the college became its constituent institution. Over time, it has expanded into a large multidisciplinary centre offering undergraduate and postgraduate studies in Arts, Science, and Commerce.

Proud Present

For nearly two centuries, Hooghly Mohsin College has remained steadfast as a beacon of academic excellence, nurturing social, ethical, and cultural values. As a fully State Government-funded institution, it ensures equitable access to quality education, regardless of religion, community, class, or gender. The college embodies a vibrant multicultural and multilingual atmosphere, fostered by a dedicated and highly qualified faculty. Administrative services are centrally digitized, including office management, finance and record processing. The central library, enriched with about 1,14,800 books, is fully committed to ensure efficient access for students and staff. The college currently offers 17 undergraduate and 8 postgraduate programmes. Students may opt for either three-year degree courses or four-year Honours programmes, aligned with the National Education Policy 2020. The Science Departments include Botany, Chemistry, Economics, Geology, Physics, Physiology, Mathematics, and Zoology. Departments within Humanities include Bengali, English, Economics, Hindi, History, Political Science, Philosophy, Sanskrit, and Urdu. A dynamic Department of Commerce offers Accountancy as its specialization. The Departments of Urdu, Physiology, and Geology are recognized research centres to conduct Ph.D programmes. Several faculty members are recognized research supervisors across multiple universities. At present, the college hosts around 3,250 UG students, 248 PG students, and three dozen Ph.D. scholars—of whom two dozen are pursuing their thesis work, half dozen have recently been awarded degree in 2025 and nine have submitted their thesis. Research activity remains strong, with several completed and three ongoing projects funded by national and state agencies such as UGC, ICSSR, DST-SERB and WBDST. To promote scholarly engagement, the college publishes a biennial, peer-reviewed journal, Academic Journal of Hooghly Mohsin College (ISSN: 0973-6212). The latest special volume, released in 2025, celebrated the scientific achievements of the college's distinguished alumnus, Dr. Upendranath Brahmachari—discoverer of Urea Stibamine, the cure for kala-azar. The college's excellence is consistently reflected in student outcomes: many secure top ranks in university examinations and succeed in national/state competitive tests. The institution ensures academic support through remedial classes, feedback-driven reforms, career guidance, and seminars. The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), along with various committees, organizes conferences, special lectures, and workshops to cultivate research motivation and social awareness. A landmark National Seminar on U.N. Brahmachari, organized at Chinsurah Rabindra Bhavan, fostered interdisciplinary discussions on public health and history of medicine. Awareness programmes on Intellectual Property Rights, training programmes for faculty, and participation in national academic platforms collectively enrich the academic ecosystem. The college offers subsidized hostel facilities and ensures students benefit from Government scholarships. Through active participation in NCC and NSS, students engage with the community, developing leadership, social commitment, and civic awareness.

When Past Meets Present

The Institution has played a significant role in shaping the intellectual and nationalist awakening during the 19th and 20th centuries. Among its illustrious alumni are eminent litterateurs, nationalists, reformers, scientists, artists, and jurists — including: Bankim Chandra Chattopadhyay, Dwijendralal Roy, Sanjib Chandra Chattopadhyay, Rangalal Bandyopadhyay, Jyotish Chandra Ghosh, Muzaffar Ahmed, Kanailal Dutta, Syed Amir Ali, Dr. Upendranath Brahmachari, J.N. Bhar, Shyamal Mitra, Satinath Mukhopadhyay, etc. Their contributions to literature, science, law, culture, and India's freedom movement form the cornerstone of the college's pride. A registered Alumni Association remains active in academic development, industry networking, and career mentorship—bridging the institution's glorious heritage with its promising future.

Fare Forward

Accredited with a B++ grade (NAAC 2nd Cycle, 2022) and recognized by the UGC under 12(B) and 2(f), the college has already been conferred the prestigious status of “College with Potential for Excellence.” The DBT, Government of India, has granted STAR College status, while the DST supported the institution under the DST-FIST scheme, strengthening its scientific infrastructure. With an expanding research culture, innovative teaching methodologies, and a community of highly motivated students and faculty, the College continues to strive toward new benchmarks of academic distinction. Guided by the visionary leadership of Dr. Purushottam Pramanik, Principal, the college remains committed to fulfilling its mission of shaping enlightened, socially responsible global citizens.

Hooghly Mohsin College — where heritage inspires progress, and the past continues to illuminate the future.

Merit Index Score Calculation for UG Admission

Eligibility Criteria for Merit Index Score Calculation:

- Students who have passed Higher Secondary (10+2) or equivalent examination from a recognized council/board/university in 2022 / 2023 / 2024 / 2025 / 2026 can participate in the college first semester admission process and will be admitted on the basis of the merit index scores and the tie-breaking rules wherever applicable.

Merit Index Calculation of Honours & Program Courses for Different Subjects:

- For admission to the 4Yr Honours Programme at the undergraduate level in the first semester, the best four subjects with the highest marks in the Higher Secondary (10+2) or equivalent examination from any recognized board/council/university (each subject having full marks 100) will be considered for preparing the merit index score (i.e., aggregate marks in best 4 subjects) and drawing the merit lists of all subjects.
- For admission to the 3-year Degree Programme at Undergraduate level in the first semester, the best four subjects with the highest marks in the Higher Secondary (10+2) or equivalent examination from any recognized board/council/university (each subject having full marks 100) will be considered for preparing the merit index score (i.e., aggregate marks in best 4 subjects) and drawing the merit lists of all subjects.
- For laboratory-based subjects, separate passing in theory and practical is required, whereas, for subjects that are not laboratory-based, separate passing in theory and project is required.
- The following tie-breaking rules shall be applicable, if multiple applicants have the same merit index score(s) in the subject-wise merit list drawn for the 4-Yr Honours as well as 3-year Degree level admission:
 - STEP-I: Higher Merit Index Score (best 4 subjects). If there is a tie, then STEP II will be followed.
 - STEP-II: Higher aggregate marks in Higher Secondary (10+2) or equivalent examination (best 5 subjects). If there is still a tie, then STEP III will be followed.
 - STEP-III: Higher aggregate marks in Madhyamik or equivalent examination. If there is still a tie, then STEP IV will be followed.
 - STEP-IV: Earlier Date of Birth, with the older candidate to be given preference.
- An uniform list of Board / Council / University will be notified by the WBSCHE along with the notification for admission.

“Marks” in a subject means percentage of marks secured in each subject mentioned at the 10+2 level Board/Council examination.

Computer Laboratory Facility in Physics Department

A computer laboratory facility with power backup and internet connectivity in the Physics Department provides easy access to extensive online information required for teaching and learning. Students of science departments can access computer and internet facility available in their respective departments and also in the Central Library. Students of Physics department can access computer and internet facility in the computer lab. Students of Arts department can access computer and internet facility in central library. Faculty members can access computer and internet facilities available in the departments, Central Library, gallery halls and in Principal's Office. Wi-Fi facility have been restored recently with advanced connectivity and high speed internet facility is available in all the departments of the institution. LCD Projectors and laptop computers are available in working condition in most of the science Departments and in the Office of the Principal. These are used by the faculty members as per requirement.

NCC

The National Cadet Corps (NCC) has been operating successfully since 2014 and continues to do so to this day. NCC is a tri-service organization that includes the army, navy, and air force, dedicated to developing the youth of the nation into disciplined and patriotic citizens. The 43/4 Beny BN NCC Coy has been adhering to all directives from the 43 Bengal BN. The Hooghly Mohsin College company stands out as the most active company within the 43 Bengal BN NCC, as the cadets participate in every activity organized by the NCC and demonstrate a high level of responsibility and commitment. Several alumni cadets are currently serving in the Indian Army, State Police, and various other sectors across the country. Recently, two cadets were awarded the governor's medal, marking a significant achievement for us. Dr. Prasenjit Mondal, Assistant Professor of Mathematics, has been effectively serving as CEO since 2025 and continues in this role to the present day.

NSS

The NSS Unit of Hooghly Mohsin College provides students with an excellent platform for personality development, leadership training, and meaningful community service. By participating in various social awareness programmes, health camps, environmental initiatives, and outreach activities, volunteers develop confidence, communication skills, teamwork, and civic responsibility. Participation in the NSS Special Camp offers students valuable field experience and the Special Camp Certificate adds significant value to their academic and professional profiles, often considered advantageous in higher education admissions, interviews, scholarships, and employment opportunities. Joining NSS helps students grow into responsible, socially committed, and service-oriented citizens.

IQAC

Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), Hooghly Mohsin College has been constituted in March, 2007 as per guidelines of the University Grant Commission (UGC) for continuous, consistent and catalytic improvement in the performance of the institution. Fostering an enduring sense of discipline and dedication in addition to the intellectual, moral and cultural development is the overall mission of IQAC. The members of the cell offer their best to help students and departments to keep in sync with the academic world by providing quality in field of higher education. The focus is on healthy academic atmosphere inside classrooms and on campus.

ICC

Hooghly Mohsin College has an active Internal Complaints Committee (ICC). The members of the committee are as follows-

1. Dr. Krishna Nandy Bhowmik, Associate Professor of Bengali (Presiding officer)
2. Dr. Asis Kimar Pandit, Associate Professor of Physiology (Member)

The Academic Departments at a Glance

➤ Bengali Department (UG)

- The Department of Bengali, Hooghly Mohsin College is rooted in ambition, purpose and rich tradition. Our department's faculty comprises seven Professors, all of whom are accomplished with Ph.D degrees. In addition to ensuring rigorous curricular pedagogy, they are extensively involved in a wide spectrum of academic research and writing.
- The primary motivation to opt for higher education in Bengali language and literature is to anchor oneself to the essence of one's mother tongue. However, the department aspires not just to specialize in a language but to be able to touch Bengali culture, the society at large and most importantly their own identities, through a nuanced understanding of literature.
- The department's vision is to ultimately elevate its pupils- from individuals with a strong knowledge of their own social identity into global citizens who can develop a wider test for literary cultures worldwide.

Ultimately as educators, we aim to drive not just academic excellence within the college but to plant among our students higher aspirations of academic pursuit through the avenues of Master's and Ph.D programs.

➤ English Department (UG & PG)

- Established in 1836, the Department of English stands as a foundational pillar of Hooghly Mohsin College, carrying forward a legacy as venerable as the institution itself. For nearly two centuries, the department has served as a sanctuary for literary inquiry, evolving from its colonial roots into a modern hub of academic excellence.
- While the department remains deeply committed to its vibrant Undergraduate program—offering English both as an Honours and an Elective subject—a significant milestone in its journey was the commencement of the Post-Graduate (PG) course in the 2006–2007 session. This expansion into higher research and specialized studies has redefined the department's academic landscape, fostering a rigorous intellectual environment for advanced scholars.
- The hallmark of the department is the scholarly vigor of its faculty. Beyond the classroom, our educators are defined by their continuous contributions to the global academic discourse through regular publications and a steadfast orientation toward research. This culture of inquiry ensures that students are exposed to contemporary critical perspectives and a deeply analytical approach to literature.
- Over the decades, the department has functioned as a crucible for excellence, producing a lineage of scholars and distinguished personalities who have successfully established themselves in diverse professional spheres across the globe. Today, the Department of English continues to bridge its storied heritage with a progressive vision, nurturing the next generation of thinkers, critics, and visionaries.

➤ History Department (UG)

- The Department of History commenced its journey in 1909 and honours course was introduced in 1924. Of late, it offers History UG major and minor courses under NEP curriculum 2020, under the Burdwan University. Through various teaching - learning methods and other activities teachers hold aloft the precepts of holistic development. Students are encouraged not to confine themselves within the realm of books. Rather teachers motivate the students to participate in students' seminar, poster presentations, quiz competition and prepare for NET and SET examination apart from excelling in studies. Based on the foundation of cordial relationships every teacher always strives to provide their best. Many eminent teachers served in this department like Kuruvilla Zakaria , Haridas Mukhopadhaya, Subodh Mukherjee and Hosenuur Rahman etc . Apart from that this department also boasts of producing academicians and scholars par excellence.
- The study in history in UG level have a great prospect for students in future. By choosing history, It helps to prepare the students job oriented public examinations like UPSC, WBCS, NET and SET. Besides, it unveils the way to admit many professional course like journalism, tourism, archivist, content writing, researcher, archeologists etc. There is no denying the fact that apart from the above mentioned avenues a student after completing UG can opt M.A. and Ph.D. and may find his or her way into the teaching profession. It also develops communication skill, critical analyzing power, and holistic nature of the students.

➤ Sanskrit Department (UG)

- The Sanskrit Department of our college promotes the study of Sanskrit language, literature, and Indian culture. The department has dedicated teachers who encourage students through lectures, seminars, and cultural programs. It helps students gain knowledge, discipline, and respect for India's rich heritage. The atmosphere of the department is friendly and scholarly. It not only helps students gain knowledge of Sanskrit but also teaches moral values, discipline, and respect for Indian tradition. The Sanskrit Department plays an important role in preserving and spreading the richness of ancient Indian wisdom. Sanskrit remains highly significant in the modern era as it preserves the rich intellectual, cultural, and philosophical heritage of India. It is the foundation of many Indian languages and provides access to ancient texts on literature, philosophy, science, mathematics, Ayurveda, and spirituality. The study of Sanskrit also enhances linguistic skills, analytical thinking, and a deeper understanding of Indian traditions and values.

- The future of Sanskrit is promising due to the increasing global interest in Indian knowledge systems and cultural studies. Sanskrit offers diverse career opportunities in teaching, research, translation, archaeology, manuscript preservation, and digital humanities. With the growing integration of technology in language studies and renewed academic interest worldwide, Sanskrit continues to maintain its relevance and importance in contemporary society.

➤ Hindi Department (UG)

- The Hindi Department of Hooghly Mohsin College is part of one of India's oldest and most esteemed educational institutions, established in 1836. Affiliated with The University of Burdwan, the department is dedicated to promoting academic excellence and cultural understanding through the study of Hindi language and literature. It encourages students to develop critical thinking, creativity, and a deeper awareness of India's literary and social traditions. The department views Hindi not only as a subject of study but also as a means of communication, cultural connection, and intellectual growth. The study of Hindi also prepares learners for diverse opportunities in education, media, translation, research, administration, and public service.

➤ Urdu Department (UG & PG)

- The Post Graduate & Research Department of Urdu, Hooghly Mohsin College has been a very competent Department since its inception. It holds a great record in its name. The Under Graduate, Post Graduate classes and Ph.D. Course Work are conducted in the department by three full fledged faculty members at present as far as possible. ➤ Philosophy Department (UG)

- The Department of Philosophy at Hooghly Mohsin College is a vibrant academic space dedicated to the study of philosophical reflections and critical investigation. The department is enriched by the guidance and expertise of eight committed faculty members who strive to nurture all-round growth among students. It offers Undergraduate (UG) programmes designed to introduce students to both Indian and Western philosophical traditions. Through classroom teaching, seminars, and academic discussions, the department encourages analytical thinking and inquiry.
- A student of philosophy can opt for teaching in Higher education institutions ;he/she have to clear NET/SET examination to do the same. Teaching in School is also a good opportunity, but for that a student must complete a B.Ed degree after graduation or post graduation which is mandatory these days. Beside teaching careers, a student of philosophy can also go for jobs in various NGOs . Well reputed NGOs sometimes look for Research Assistants from Social Science disciplines in their organisations. Students of philosophy can also go for several fellowships where they can get opportunities to work with the grassroots. Besides all these, various corporate houses are also looking for social science graduates nowadays.

➤ Political Science Department (UG & PG)

- Post-Graduate Department of Political Science began its journey with the introduction of Undergraduate Honours and General courses in 1960. The Post-Graduate Course was introduced in 1965 much earlier than it was introduced in the Burdwan University. From the inception stalwarts of Political Science have adorned the department like Sovanlal Duttgupta, Radharaman Chakraborty, Raghubir Chakraborty, Gouripada Bhattacharya, Prasanta Kumar Ghosh And Krityapriya Ghosh and other luminaries. Inspirational and motivational teachers past and present work relentlessly for achieving academic excellence of the department. The department is dynamic and always engaged in academic activities of various kinds.
- The careerscope of the discipline of Political Science makes it quite attractive in the current global job market. The career options range across civil services, media and communications, law and advocacy, teaching, survey analyst, social work and NGO services among others. Pursuit of academics also encourages research and analysis. Core concept skills like understanding government and politics, global issues, decision- making, policy analysis are developed through the curricula of Political Science.

➤ Economics Department (UG)

The Economics Department stands at the heart of the college's commitment to intellectual rigor and social relevance. It provides students with a deep understanding of how markets, institutions, and policies shape the world we live in. By blending theory with practical application, the department equips learners to analyze complex economic issues and contribute meaningfully to society. Economics developed out of the field once known as political economy, pioneered by thinkers such as Adam Smith and John Stuart Mill. For many years, the subject was taught under the broader discipline of civics, until it emerged as an independent academic field in the early 20th century. At Hooghly Mohsin College, Economics was first introduced as a subject in the B.A. (General) program in 1919, and by 1948, approval was granted to launch the B.A. (Economics Honours) course. Over the decades, the Department of Economics has earned a strong reputation, distinguished by the consistent achievements of its students. At present, the Department of Economics is enriched by a team of four dedicated faculty members. Beyond their teaching responsibilities, they are actively engaged in cutting-edge research and provide guidance to scholars, ensuring a vibrant academic culture.

- The department nurtures an environment that empowers students to prepare for life ahead, equipping them with the knowledge and skills to thrive in diverse fields. Our mission is to train graduates who are ready to seize opportunities—whether pursuing postgraduate studies at prestigious institutions in India and abroad, or embarking on careers in the teaching profession, the public sector, the corporate world, or with renowned NGOs. Our alumni are a testament to this vision. Many have excelled in postgraduate programs at highly ranked universities across the country and abroad, while others have distinguished themselves in academia and diverse professional spheres worldwide. The department takes pride in this legacy of excellence, which continues to inspire future generations of students. The Department of Economics at Hooghly Mohsin College envisions a vibrant future aligned with the goals of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, which emphasizes holistic, multidisciplinary, and skill-oriented education. Building on its strong academic foundation, the department plans to introduce innovative courses in areas such as data analytics, environmental economics, and financial technology, while fostering greater research collaborations and industry linkages. The NEP 2020 framework encourages flexibility and global exposure, enabling students to pursue postgraduate studies at reputed institutions in India and abroad, as well as preparing them for diverse careers in the public sector, corporate world, academia, and international organizations. With NEP 2020's emphasis on skill development, innovation, and global engagement, the department is set to become a hub of excellence, nurturing graduates who are academically accomplished, socially responsible, and globally competitive.

➤ Botany Department (UG & PG)

The Department of Botany at Hooghly Mohsin College is dedicated to exploring the fascinating world of plants and their vital role in our ecosystem. We offer a strong foundation in plant sciences under the course curriculum of B. Sc. (Honours in Botany) and M. Sc. (Botany) through a blend of classroom learning, field studies and hands-on laboratory work. Our curriculum covers plant diversity, ecology, genetics, biotechnology and conservation, supported by a well-equipped herbarium, botanical garden, and modern labs. With experienced faculty and active research projects, we prepare students for careers in research in environmental science, agriculture different areas of plant sciences. The study of Botany opens careers in agriculture, biotechnology, environmental conservation, forestry, pharmacology, teaching and research, with growing demand in food security, climate change and sustainable development. Join us to discover how plants sustain life on Earth.

➤ Zoology Department (UG & PG)

- The “Department of Biological Sciences” established one year after the year of independence of India has emerged as the Department of Zoology in the year 1969, and as the Post Graduate Department of Zoology in the Year 2015. This Department boasts of the memorable contribution from many versatile Zoologists and Laboratory Personnel, who efficiently guided their students so as to help them find their respective niche to contribute their best to the society. Students of this department are now securing their places in NET, SET, GATE examinations and receiving scholarships at both the national and international levels. Students from this department are now carrying out their research work in foreign countries and are also placed in several reputed colleges and research institutes as faculty members and research scientists respectively. All the faculty members are untiring in their pursuit of knowledge and in their efforts to keep themselves continually updated in their respective specialized disciplines.
- The core subject Zoology has been ramified into various specialized fields maintaining an inherent capacity to link other disciplines of science. The present syllabus of Zoology under NEP has broadened this interdisciplinary learning and created an inquest for Indian traditional knowledge. The learners of Zoology thus get the broad-spectrum opportunity to equip themselves to grab their respective future prospect in different academic and professional fields.

➤ Physiology Department (UG & PG)

➤ The Department of Physiology at Hooghly Mohsin College was established in 1961 during the post-independence era with a vision to promote excellence in education and scientific inquiry. Since its inception, the department has sincerely upheld the ideals and academic values laid down by its predecessors. Over the decades, the department has made a significant contribution to society through continuous innovation in teaching, research, creativity, and academic development. Initially started as a pass-course teaching department, it rapidly evolved into an Honours and later a Postgraduate teaching department within the decade of the 1990s, reflecting its remarkable academic progress and commitment to quality education. The department has also fostered a strong research culture, with several research scholars successfully completing their Ph.D. work under its guidance. Looking toward the future, the department aims to strengthen interdisciplinary research, modernize laboratory and digital learning facilities, promote collaborative projects, and encourage student participation in innovative scientific and community-based activities, thereby continuing its tradition of academic excellence and societal contribution.

➤ Geology Department (UG & PG)

The Department of Geology was established in 2010 as an undergraduate department and, thus, it is a relatively young department in Hooghly Mohsin College, the antiquity of which goes back to as early as 1836. The department currently runs both B.Sc. (4-Years Honours) and M.Sc. course in Geology. Beside classroom and laboratory teaching, field trips are arranged in fixed interval with students from different semesters of UG and PG batches. Students from our department also participate regularly in different inter-college, national and state level competitions and bring accolades for our department. This post-graduate department is the university department under Burdwan University (Burdwan University campus do not house any geology department in their campus). Our alumni are currently serving as geologist under different departments of Govt. of India, Govt. of West Bengal, central PSUs as well as researchers in different universities and institutes.

Through career oriented, innovative and interdisciplinary learning, the department tries to impart knowledge of geology or earth science as a whole, so that the students can easily fit themselves in the job market. Mainly, students get absorbed in private exploration and mining companies, govt. PSUs and research/scientific organisations like GSI, CGWB, SWID or Dir. of Mines & Minerals. There is also scope for research and career as an academican as the subject is taught in normal government colleges, as well as in IITs and IISERs.

➤ Chemistry Department (UG)

- The department of chemistry at Hooghly Mohsin College started its journey in the year 1907 and was upgraded into an honours department in 1948. At present the department trains the undergraduate students of chemistry (major and minor) in theory and practical curriculum following the syllabus of The University of Burdwan. The Department is enriched with eleven faculty members. It has three well equipped laboratories, an exclusive research laboratory, one instrument room and a comprehensive departmental library (1071 books). In order to promote holistic development of students, the department organizes seminars and encourages students to participate in seminars, quiz competitions, etc. at other institutions. Over the years the students of the department have fared excellently, pursuing their post-graduate and Ph.D courses in eminent national and international universities and institutes. The department is committed to teach and inspire students so that they become skilled and responsible chemists in future.
- The tradition of chemistry is rooted in centuries of scientific discovery, experiments and exploration of the world around us. In the modern world studying chemistry offers a wide range of career opportunities in industries such as pharmaceuticals, biotechnology, food processing, and environmental science. Students of chemistry can work as researchers, teachers, laboratory analysts or quality control officers in both government and private sectors.

➤ Physics Department (UG)

The Department of Physics at Hooghly Mohsin College, affiliated with the University of Burdwan, currently offers undergraduate courses aligned with the NEP 2020 framework, aiming to provide students with a solid foundation in both theoretical and experimental physics. An adequate team of highly qualified faculty members fosters academic excellence through regular classes, seminars, and workshops, guiding students toward research and career-oriented goals. The infrastructure is robust, featuring five well-equipped physics laboratories and a dedicated computer laboratory that enable students to gain essential practical knowledge and scientific skills in Physics. Furthermore, the department maintains its own seminar library containing a large number of books on Physics, ensuring that students have ready access on specialized academic resources for their holistic development.

Physics opens up a vast spectrum of career opportunities for UG students, equipping them with the logical reasoning and analytical skills that are highly indispensable in today's scientific and technological sectors. Regarding future scope, Students can pursue higher education through M.Sc. and Ph.D. programmes at prestigious universities, IITs, and national research institutes. This subject provides a strong platform to excel in diverse fields such as data science, electronics, astronomy, computer applications, nuclear science and defence research. Students are also well-prepared to clear national-level competitive examinations like JAM, GATE, NET, and SET, or even transition into the civil services. Whether aiming for roles in the IT industry, technical sectors, or academic teaching, a degree in Physics ensures a versatile and rewarding professional future.

➤ Mathematics Department (UG)

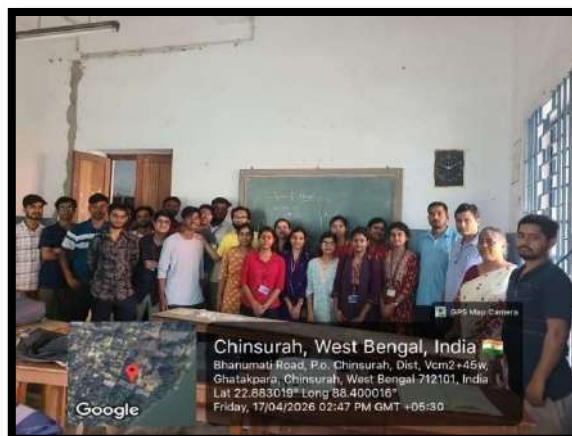

The Department of Mathematics at Hooghly Mohsin College began its journey under the University of Calcutta with the introduction of the B.Sc. General course in 1860. Later, in 1864, the B.Sc. Honours course was introduced alongside the General course. In 1960, the affiliation of the department was transferred to the University of Burdwan. At present, the department offers three-year and four-year undergraduate courses under NEP 2020, supported by a team of dedicated, innovative, and accomplished faculty members.

Notable Alumni:

- Sir Upendranath Brahmachari
- Dhruva Charan Mallik
- Shibnath Banerjee

Future Prospects of Studying Mathematics:

- Mathematics develops strong problem-solving and logical reasoning skills.
- It offers diverse career opportunities in engineering, data science, finance, and technology.
- Mathematics forms the foundation of modern technologies such as artificial intelligence and computer science.
- Students can pursue higher studies and research in various advanced scientific fields.

➤ Commerce Department (UG & PG)

➤ The PG Department of Commerce at Hooghly Mohsin College established its academic foundation in 1971 with the introduction of the B.Com program. Later in 1987, it expanded its undergraduate scope and launched the B.Com Honours course to foster specialized learning. A significant milestone was achieved in 2000 when the Post Graduate studies commenced. It continues to uphold an excellent teaching environment characterized by academic rigor and dedicated faculty support. Future prospects include the implementation of robust career counselling sessions and introduction of various add-on courses for skill enhancement. The department also aspires to start specialized certificate courses to support student employability. Visionary goals for the future include the introduction of a Doctoral degree program to promote advanced research and scholarship.
